

I think that XM radio should be allowed to broadcast traffic and weather just the same as any other radio station. What difference does it make if the information is broadcasted via towers or satellite? The information is all the same and they should be allowed the same rights as a regular broadcast radio stations.